

Coach Joe Padilla grew up in small suburb just outside of Buffalo, NY (Go Bills!) He was a well-rounded athlete who finally found his way to volleyball as a Junior in High School. Joe played high school and club before starting a collegiate club team for SUNY Oswego. Joe has coached for many years at both the high school and club levels. After transitioning to South Carolina, he started his own club: Coastal Precision Volleyball Club. Professionally Joe has spent his time supporting young adults. After some time with Eckerd Youth Alternatives, Joe transitioned to the formal education field where he has spent the last 9 years as a CTE/Business teacher. Joe sets high goals for himself and his team and isn't afraid of working hard. Joe looks forward to seeing his dream of having his own club come to fruition once again with Coastline Volleyball.
